Spiritual Care for Elder Care-Givers 2018 -

Do you provide part time or full-time care for an elder? Would you like a safe place to share your joys and struggles with other care-givers? Would you appreciate companionship in nurturing your spirit? In today's American culture, many adults are providing full-time or part-time care for their elder parents, relatives, friends, or neighbors. Elder-care-giving can certainly be challenging, presenting both joys and frustrations to elders and their care-givers. This every-other-month gathering will provide participants with a time of guided prayer, supportive conversation around joys and struggles, and sharing new ideas for offering care. Come and go to these gatherings as you might need and desire. There is no need to make a commitment to each one. ## NEW OPPORTUNITIES

When we turn the page of the calendar to begin the new year, we have at least two options. We can use it as an opportunity to reflect upon the accomplishments or shortcomings of the past year...or we can see it as a challenge to vision the opportunities which the new year will hold in store for us. Because it has long been my general habit to vision the positive options with which it is my expectation that we will be confronted, I choose to share a few of these which we may experience in 2018.

I am envisioning that the new year will afford us a continuation of the worship experiences to which we have been accustomed, but I am hoping that at least some of us will benefit from experimentation with at least a few New Opportunities. During my service as a Stewardship Key Leader for the ELCA, I had the privilege of visiting with parishes in various parts of our country. I have special memories of my visit to one very active congregation in the Mid-West. Admittedly it had a rather large number of parishioners to serve, but I came away from that experience believing that one of the reasons for this was the various worship opportunities they offered. There was an informal worship in the context of an early Saturday supper, which was attractive to senior folk. There was a rather traditional early service, followed by a mid-morning contemporary service from which the children and young people were excused to Sunday School following a brief but meaningful opening ritual. And there was a late morning traditional worship in the chapel (by this time many of the worship tastes had been satisfied). Some experimentation had gotten them to this point!

I'm also hoping the new year will afford us New Opportunities to broaden our fellowship experiences. Across the years I have heard people affirm that their experiences with the congregations with which they are affiliated comes as close as possible to reflecting a real family of faith. It is to be hoped that the new year will find those parishes which have already become families of faith continue to serve in this capacity, and that those which have not yet reached this level will progress in this direction. The strangeness and busyness of our evolving world suggests an increasing need for the intimate sharing of God's love!

And, there is considerable evidence that the new year and beyond will include New Opportunities for the sharing of this love as we respond to the unique and serious needs of people in various parts of our world. As I was preparing these materials I was listening to a report of the devastation and the number of people who were being affected by the wildfires in California. And this news was following very closely, of course, on the heels of the various kinds of storms which had recently taken major tolls in Texas/Louisiana, Florida and Puerto Rico. The calendar may change, but New Opportunities continue with us!
